About the East Coast Bowl

The East Coast Bowl is an annual college football All-Star game that features the most elite Division I-FCS, II, III and NAIA college football players from across the Mid-Atlantic region. The game is held every year on the Saturday following Thanksgiving at Cameron Field in Petersburg, Virginia and is sponsored by the City of Petersburg and the National Football Foundation. As mention in the mission statement, all proceeds derived from the game are used to award scholarships to high school students from the Tri-Cities area that intend on playing football at a Division II or III institution.

- FREE TO ALL MILITARY
- FREE TO ALL HIGH SCHOOL FOOTBALL PLAYERS
- FREE TO ALL YOUTH REC FOOTBALL PLAYERS AND CHEERLEADERS

All youth Recreation Football Teams and Cheerleaders are invited to walk around the track before the game and represent your team and recreation department along with interacting with the Players. Please call the front office to participate in this event.
